1-Yr Interfaith Comparative w/(ACIM) A Course in Miracles Track

This program is a dual study program that offers Comparative Religion and ACIM courses. In the Comparative Religion course, students will study various religious traditions and beliefs from all over the world. The course aims to provide students with the skills to evaluate how these religions are relative to each other. By studying a variety of religions, students can gain a broader understanding and appreciation of spiritual perspectives, both individually and collectively.

The ACIM program is a unique spiritual program designed to awaken individuals to the truth of their “Oneness” with God and Love. The course teaches that the real world, which reflects truth, can only be seen through spiritual vision and not through the body's eyes. This enables individuals to recognize their true identity.

After completion of the program, students will be ordained as Interfaith Ministers and can apply for licensure in New York.

2-Yr Master of Divinity w/ACIM Concentration Program (Accredited)

(To be eligible for enrollment in this Master's Program, the student must have completed an Interfaith Minister course from a recognized Interfaith program.)

This program provides an in-depth learning experience that prepares students to take on spiritual leadership roles with a core focus on A Course in Miracles and its spiritual belief systems.

Upon successful completion of the program, the student will be awarded an accredited Master of Divinity Degree.

2-Yr Doctor of Divinity w/ACIM Concentration Program (Accredited)

(To enroll in the Doctorate Program, the student must already have an Interfaith Master's of Divinity degree and be an Interfaith Minister.)

The Doctor of Divinity degree is ideal for individuals who wish to expand their understanding, enhance their leadership skills, and establish a strong network of peers. This program provides students with the necessary tools and knowledge to become spiritual leaders, with a particular emphasis on A Course in Miracles and its spiritual principles.

Upon successful completion of the program, the student will be awarded an accredited Doctor of Divinity degree.
